Summary

I'm a Fresh Graduate Full-Stack Web Developer Focusing on Frontend development with good analytical skills. I have experience in developing ecommerce website when I was a student at Zuitt Coding Bootcamp. During which I was able to establish a profound understanding of cutting edge technologies like ReactJS Node.js and engaging from different programming tools. This experience helped me become proactive in problem solving. I am very hungry for learning to enhance my programming skills and reach new heights. And Now that I am a certified Full-Stack Web Developer, I am now on a hunt for a company that will not only consider me as a mere people but an asset that will help boost the company's success in no time. Moreover, I would like to contribute to your organization, enhancing my skills to develop webpage application using available frameworks.
